No Reports Given Out
In Grand Jury Probe

(By The Associated Press)
WAUKEGAN, Ill., March 27.—The grand jury investigating reports of attempted bribery of jurors and veniremen in connection with the trial and acquittal of Governor Len Small last summer on conspiracy charges ended its second day's work tonight without either official confirmation or denial from State's Attorney A. V. Smith of rumors that the body had returned indictments.
At the close of today's session Attorney Smith refused to comment other than to say former Sheriff Elmer Green, former Bailiff P. A. Doolittle and Wilson L. Gee, former deputy sheriff will be called before the grand jury tomorrow. This was regarded by many as an answer to the charges of local newspapers that only one side of the Governor Small trial was being investigated. The three men, according to newspaper articles today are reported to have knowledge of alleged attempts at jury tampering by Jack Glazer, said to have been investigating for Attorney General Edward J. Brundage during the Small trial.
Further efforts to bring "Umbrella" Mike Boyle, Chicago labor chieftain here to face the grand jury will be made, Mr. Smith said. A bench warrant was issued for him after his attorney had pleaded that his client was ill in Chicago. Mr. Smith also announced that a search is being made for Ben Newmark, a Chicago detective who is wanted to testify before the investigating body.
Small's Son Appears
Harry C. Pegyman, a Chicago detective was the first man to visit it the grand jury today and he was followed by Leslie Small, Governor Small's son who remained in the jury room for more than two hours.

Coming after him was Werner W. Schroeder, counsel for the governor during the trial.
Fred Mader, Chicago labor leader, Louis Pionetti, and F. C. Franke, both attached to the Chicago corporation counsel's office and Col. A. E. Inglesh, Governor Small's son-in-law who had been waiting here since yesterday to go before the grand jury were dismissed without testifying.
W. T. Ziegler, cashier of the Antioch, Illinois, State Bank and J. F. Brook, cashier of the Brook State Bank of Antioch, appeared before the jury today with bank records and Andrew Wedeen, proprietor of a hotel at Antioch also testified regarding his hotel register and records.
Postmaster Michael Talcott, of Waukegan and W. E. Comb, superintendent of the Waukegan plant of the American Steel & Wire company were called before the jury to testify regarding employees who had been jurors during the Small trial.
Preparations were made in court late today to receive the grand jury and it was thought that it had completed its work but deliberations broke up about 6 o'clock and the jury did not return to the court room.
Virtually all the evidence gathered by the state's attorney is understood to be before the jury now and little additional time is expected to be required tomorrow before the jurors will report the results of their investigations in court.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE FOR FUNERAL OF SARAH BERNHARDT

Will be Held Thursday at Church of St. Francois de Sales
(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, March 27.—The body of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt will be removed at noon Thursday from her late home on the Boulevard Pereire to the church of St. Francois de Sales, in a nearby street and thence conveyed to the cemetery of the Pere-Lachaise, the last resting place of hundreds of France's famous people of all times.
It will be one of the most impressive funerals of a great figure since that of Victor Hugo. Hugo's funeral was under the auspices of the government; Bernhardt's will be at the expense of the city of Paris.
Poverty is given as the reason that Bernhardt will not be buried in Belle Isle, where many years ago she had a tomb dug in the solid rock. It is explained that shortly before her death, pressed as always for ready money, the actress was obliged to sell the house with the land at Belle Isle and it is suggested now that at some future time permission be obtained from the new owner and the body transferred there.
A rented villa in a Paris suburb which was to have been her summer home replacing Belle Isle, is bright with fresh paint. On the gate is inscribed as the villa's name, Bernhardt's motto, "Quand Meme," which is likely to remain as a memorial of the tenant who never lived there.
It is suggested also that the theater bearing her name which is municipal property should retain the name as a memorial whoever the new tenant may be.

WOULD STOP GAMBLING
IN STAPLE PRODUCTS

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 27.—An extra session of congress to enact laws to prevent gambling in sugar and other staple products, should the attorney general find present statutes insufficient was proposed today by Representative Cole, Republican, Iowa.
"The cost of an extra session of congress," he declared, in a statement, "to provide laws which will protect the public would be nothing compared to the $110,000,000 being taken from the sugar consumers with every cent increase in price.
"I am urging the United States Chamber of Commerce to take cognizance of the grave national issue. The big business interests of the country ought to be powerful enough to stop such manipulations in the price of food products."
THREE CHILDREN
BURNED TO DEATH
Andover, O., March 27.—Three children of Mrs. Charles White, ranging in age from 1 to 6 years were burned to death when fire destroyed the family home at Williams Field five miles south of here today.

The origin of the fire is undetermined.

Urbana, Ill., March 27.—Fire in the Clifford-Jacobs Drop Forge Foundry here this afternoon caused damage estimated at between $50,000 and $100,000. Fire departments from Urbana, the Big Four railroad shops and the University of Illinois fought the flames, but were unable to stop the fire before it had ruined the machinery in the plant.
Champaign, Ill., March 27.—Thieves entered St. Mary's Catholic church here last night and forced an entry into the tabernacle of the altar and escaping with gold vessels valued at $350. The "sacred hosts" were scattered about the church and some were found half a block away.

MANY DRUG ADDICTS
IN UNITED STATES
OFFICIALS REPORT

One Person in Every Seventy-Three, it is Estimated

(By The Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 27.—One person in every seventy-three in the United States today is a confirmed drug addict, according to the reports of narcotic inspectors made to the treasury department, Garland W. Powell, national director of the Americanism commission of the American Legion, declared in an address at the annual fathers and sons association banquet here tonight.
Medical estimates have been made, he added, that each addict fastens the drug habit on three normal persons during his existence. Mr. Powell announced that the American Legion thru its Americanism commission is organizing a national campaign against the evil.
According to reports from many cities including New York, Memphis and Louisville the narcotic evil is gaining a hold on high school pupils, he said. He advocated the death penalty for a drug peddler selling his wares to children.
Basing his figures on reports of narcotic inspectors to the treasury department, Mr. Powell said: "One person in every seventy-three in this country already is a confirmed drug addict according to authoritative statistics in the possession of the national Americanism commission. There are one and half million persons now in America who cannot face existence without their daily or hourly on the spot and are sinking swiftly into a condition of hopelessness and horror. These unfortunates, if gathered together in one place, would comprise a city of dreadful night, larger than Boston and Baltimore together. The 'dope' addicts in the United States equal in number the combined total population of Arizona, Delaware, Nevada, New Mexico, Vermont and Wyoming. Six great states of the union might be peopled today with addicts alone."
The most vicious aspect of the whole problem according to Powell is the organized effort to extend the use of the dope among the high school pupils and even the grammar school children of the country. In numerous instances, he said, peddlers of habit forming drugs have confessed to having a large high school patronage. He cited a case in a western city where he said a notorious drug peddler was arrested at the door of the main high school of the city.

ARMY MAN REPORTS
LOCAL COMPANY OK

Col. Nelson Makes Annual U. S. Inspection of Howitzer Troop —Men to Drill in New Quarters Monday Evening.
The annual armory inspection of the local Howitzer by an officer of the U. S. army was duly made last night at the Auto Inn, Lieut. Col. C. J. Nelson, senior infantry inspector of the Illinois National guard, conducted the inspection. He stated that he found everything about the records and personnel of the company in good shape, considering the recent loss of equipment in the fire that destroyed armory hall. Thirty men and two officers were present for inspection, which was a very informal affair. The men were asked questions about military tactics and were put thru the ordinary drills.
On the evening of April 5, Lieut. Col. Charles W. Nunad, commander of the 130th Illinois National guard infantry, to which the local company is attached, will make the state inspection. The company will meet next Monday evening in the new armory on the second floor of the Ethnie building.

LAST OCCUPANT OF
SCOTT BLOCK GOES

The last occupant moved from the Scott block yesterday when Dr. A. B. Applebee moved his dental office to room over the Russell & Thompson jewelry store. For some time firms who had offices in the building have been seeking other locations, in order to make way for the remodeling forces which are expected to begin work in the near future.
It is expected to begin preliminary work on the building during the first week in April, and the contract will be let for the actual remodeling at about the same time. It will not be many months before a new modern clinic building will stand on the present site of the Scott block.

WILL PERMIT THE IMPORTATION OF
OPIUM TO JULY 1

Manufacturers Will be Permitted This Privilege

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 27.—Limited importation of opium and other raw narcotics for the use of the legitimate manufacturing trade will be resumed immediately under an agreement reached today at a conference between the federal narcotics control board and representatives of leading manufacturers. The existing embargo against all imports of narcotics will be raised, it was announced, to the extent that until July 1 next, manufacturers may import an amount equal to their imports during the corresponding period of 1922. Another conference for July 1 was arranged to discuss subsequent importations.
Illicit use of narcotics was not a major topic of discussion at today's conference which was confined to consideration of the necessities of the medical and drug professions for narcotics, of which the supply has been greatly reduced by the recent embargo.
Presiding over the conference was L. G. Nutt, director of the narcotic division of the prohibition enforcement bureau as the representative of the treasury department.
Both the state and commerce departments given representations on the federal board together with the public health service, also were represented. It developed at the conference that the embargo against narcotic importations had decreased the supplies of manufacturers sometimes to the point of suspending manufacturing altogether and this in the face of increased demand from the drug and medical trade.
The narcotic manufacturers, Mr. Nutt said, evidenced sincere desire to cooperate with the government to prevent narcotics from reaching unauthorized hands and to make narcotic prepared to bid for surplus army supplies also it was said, are prepared to bid for surplus army supplies of narcotics to reduce their import necessities.

RESERVE BOARD
MOVES TO CURB
RUMORED CHANGES

Issues Statement Saying it Will Make Its Own
Announcements

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Federal Reserve Board in conjunction with the governors of the twelve reserve banks meeting in semi-annual conference here moved today to curb the flood of rumors concerning possible changes in the board's policies and reports of contemplated increases in the re-discount rates by the banks.
In answer to more than one hundred telegraphic inquiries, the board categorically denied "any rumors with respect to its intentions or actions," and informed one and all that it would make its own statements when such were required. The message invited inquiries to supply the board with information regarding the source of the rumors, adding in substance that it would not waste its time in denying all idle rumors.
There seemed to have been no definite reason for the reports officials said, nor could they explain, they said why so much significance was being attached to the conference of the governors here. It was made known authoritatively that none of the twelve banks has yet filed with the board an application to increase its rates and the consensus of opinion appeared to be that none was in immediate contemplation.
Changes in business conditions and the general financial situation however, it was explained, may bring changes in rediscount rates but how soon these changes could come was declared by reserve board members to depend entirely on conditions. With respect to the meeting of the governors it was stated officially thus far there had been no discussion of rediscount rates. The conference, it was added devoted itself until late today with one involving banking operations solely. A general exchange of information for the purpose of solving operating problems had been the order in previous meetings.
The governors did confer, however, with members of the farm loan board at the afternoon session but Commissioner Lobdell of the loan board said later that the discussion had embraced only the administration of the new agricultural acts which is under supervision of the loan board altho its operation has an indirect effect on the reserve system functions.
Altho it was denied officially there were indications that the conference also had talked over which the loan board will establish on loans under the new law. The governor's meeting probably will continue until Thursday tho it was said it might complete its routine discussion tomorrow.

PROBE ORDERED BY PRESIDENT HARDING
INTO SUGAR PRICES

Tariff Commission is Given Instruction
By Wire

(By The Associated Press)
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 27.—Investigation by the United States tariff commission into the relation of the tariff rates on sugar to the present increased sugar prices was ordered today by President Harding.
The inquiry was requested by the president in the following telegram addressed to Thomas O. Marvin, chairman of the tariff commission:
"Have tariff commission make an immediate inquiry into the relation of the sugar tariff to the current prices of that commodity. It is difficult to believe that the duty on sugar can have any part in making the abnormal prices which prevail but if the commission finds there is any ground for believing the duty to be even partially responsible I shall be ready to proclaim a reduction in sugar as provided by law."
The presidential order it was explained will result in enlisting another official agency in the government's endeavors to ascertain responsibility for the gradual increase in sugar prices starting early in February when sugar was selling at five and six cents a pound retail as compared with present quotations running as high as 12 cents.
The department of commerce for several weeks has been studying the sugar situation and several days ago acting Attorney General Seymour announced in Washington that the department of justice was making an inquiry which would continue until responsibility was fixed.
Mr. Harding was said to be firmly determined that the government shall do all in its power not only to prevent further increases, but to bring the present quoted prices down should they be found unjustifiable.
He gave some attention to the sugar situation before leaving Washington and is understood to have had several communications from various officials in the capitol on the subject since his arrival in Florida.
The president was represented as unconvinced that the present Fordney-McCumber tariff rates of 1.76 cents a pound on Cuban raw and 2.20 cents on other sugars was to be blamed for the increased prices which Senator Ladd Republican, North Dakota, in a statement issued a few days ago said were costing the American people at the rate of $90,000,000 annually for every cent advanced. As his telegram to Chairman Marvin asserted, however, he is willing should the tariff commission's inquiry determine that the tariff rates are even partially the cause to utilize the flexible provision of the present tariff act.

SAYS PROSPERITY IS STEWARDSHIP

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, March 27.—American prosperity should be regarded as a stewardship for the redemption of the world, J. H. Tregoe of New York, secretary of the National Association of Credit Men declared here tonight in an address before the Illinois State Conference of Credit Men. America's great wealth has not been acquired solely thru American genius and energy, he said, adding that its prosperity made it responsible to some extent for those less fortunate.
America, he said, has a responsibility to Europe and can never isolate herself from European influence.
Misuse of credit, he declared, has been at the bottom of every general depression and every panic.
Upon the monetary stock of four and one half billions of dollars can be based about $45,000,000,000 of credit, he said, and he asserted to put this vast credit to extravagant use is the country's greatest danger.

If all the workers in the farm bureau organization are really interested their one day campaign for members will surely bring gratifying results.

On the first night of the hotel campaign $104,000 was raised. Now the total is past the $150,000 mark. This may not seem like rapid progress but the total sum desired is absolutely certain to be raised. As one man put it yesterday, "Jacksonville does not start a program of this kind without finishing it."

One thing is certain. If the talk about the high price of sugar results in heavy purchases by large and small consumers the price will go still further skyward. People seem to forget in a time like this that if they buy beyond their immediate needs, they are simply helping in the price boosting process.

Judging from reading some of the Chicago papers some well known citizens there are not very much concerned whether the next mayor shall be Dever or Lueder.

It remains to be seen what the Jacksonville voters will think of the two candidates for similar office whose names will appear on the ballot at the coming election.

"It is time to call a halt and an about-face on all these free-taxing, easy-spenders gentlemen who are so tirelessly increasing old and searching out new sources of taxation," says the Saturday Evening Post in an editorial.

"A progressive program of confiscation is operating in America under the guise of taxation. Increasing burdens are being added year by year to real estate, to productive capital and wages. Slacker wealth alone is escaping, hiding in the tax-exempts provided by these same legislators. Much of this money is wisely spent, much of it is wasted in worse than unnecessary extensions of government powers and in foolish paternalistic schemes, and some of it goes up in smoke between jealous and rival departments."

"President Harding's administration has been so constructive in its plans and so successful in its plans that the Republican party has no greater asset than its record of accomplishment," declares the Republican Publicity Association. "While there should never have been any doubt about Mr. Harding's re-election, if he retains his health, yet the recent announcement that he will be a candidate, apparently with his approval, should serve a beneficial purpose of removing that Republican party on the one hand could not fail to offer him the nomination, and he, recognizing his duty as a citizen and as a Republican once highly honored by his party, could not refuse it."

"Under the leadership of Mr. Harding the Republicans can go into the campaign of 1924 with no excuses, explanations or apologies but with pride in the achievements of the Republican congress and a Republican President. During the first two years of the Harding administration the public debt has been reduced; federal taxes have been cut; prosperity has been restored to American industry; unemployment has been eliminated; our international standing has been regained; the British debt has been funded; a beginning has been made in the limitation of armaments; menacing disputes in the Orient have been settled; and tendency towards paternalism has been checked; the American 'First' protective tariff system has been restored; the Federal Reserve Board has been strengthened in public confidence; a hundred thousand needless government employees have been

These are but a few of many accomplishments of the administration.

There's a ripe ole sayin' that's used ever' minute in th' day by somebuddy t' th' effect that Opportunity only knocks once.

As a matter o' fact it's allus knockin', an' most o' us have gone t' th' door forty times allus either out o' money or afraid t' take a long chance.

Opportunity is just like Dan Cupid.

It don't guarantee nothin'. It just puts it up t' us. It says, "you quit th' saw mill, where you've worked for years, an' take a job o' sellin' cigars on th' road" or, "you sell your farm an' move t' Californy an' raise English walnuts," or "you involve yourself a little an' gobble up some o' this oil stock," an' so on.

Opportunity seems to go on th' theory that we kin all afford t' lose. Very few o' us are able t' distinguish th' Opportunity of a life time from th' common everyday kind.

Some folks never question Opportunity. They seem t' think Providence has sent him.

Tipton Bud heard a knock on his door a year or so ago an' bought nine hundred dollars' o' minin' stock.

He thought it was his Opportunity, but instead it wuz th' agent's.

We've all been stung by Opportunity, but it has more aliases than a Kiefer pear, an' allus returns with a new proposition.

Opportunity seems t' prefer folks that have raked an' scraped all their lives, an' are ready t' set back an' enjoy their earnings.

Opportunity don't waste any more time on a dead one than an auto salesman does.

You've got t' have somethin' if you want t' interest Opportunity.

SHANKEN'S

Wild Animals--The Kangaroo

If the animals held athletic meets, the kangaroo, that queer native of Australia, would probably hold the titles for the broad jump, racing and boxing.

So very different is the kangaroo that he really can't be compared with any other animal. With hind legs over twice the size of his front legs and a stiff thick tail almost as long as his body, he looks very clumsy, but it is these powerful legs and tail that enable the kangaroo to jump from twenty to thirty feet in one bound and to travel so quickly that the fastest hunting dogs can't overtake him.

Except occasionally when feeding the kangaroo doesn't use his front legs for support. He holds an upright position, and when he's resting he curls his stout tail under him and sits on it.

He never looks for trouble, and will not fight unless he is cornered. His only means of defense is the very long sharp claw in each of his hind feet. When he is in danger of attack he will speed away with springing leaps, but if cornered he will turn and fight desperately. Resting on his tail he will allow the enemy to attack and will box with his front paws or hold him while, with swift strokes he wounds or kills his victim with his terrible sharp claws.

In Australia the kangaroos are constantly hunted because they destroy the grazing fields needed for cattle and sheep. Their skins are very valuable and the natives use the tail to make soup.

Kangaroo hunting has become such a sport that especially swift dogs, called kangaroo hounds, have been bred to run the animals down. When pursued, the kangaroo will run into shallow water, and when the dogs attack him he will grab them one after the other, and with his powerful legs and tail will hold them under the water until they drown.

Kangaroos can be easily tamed and are trained by their owners to box with them.

PITTMAN WINS IN CROSS COUNTRY RUN

Freshman Show Heels to Seven Opponents in Annual Event—Dale Finishes in Second Place.

Upsetting the dope in rather startling fashion yesterday afternoon, Pittman, a freshman runner from Fiera, romped home an easy winner in the fourth annual cross country run. Not only did he win handily but he smashed the record all to pieces, cutting 39 4-5 seconds from the record set last year by Frank Douglas. Pittman's time for the two mile course will 11 minutes and 4 seconds. He finished strong and no doubt could have cut the time down to less than 11 minutes had he received keener competition.

A peculiar circumstance connected with the cross country run is that each year since its beginning the winner has been a freshman. James Hatfield, Jesse Iffner, Frank Douglas and Pittman who have been winners in that order during the last four years won this race while classed as freshmen.

In today's race there were eight competitors. Pittman, Overby, Johnson, Kimmel and Scott from the freshman class, Dale and Miller from the sophomores, and Miller from the juniors. Dale, who finished second last year, won that rank again this year. Overby, a plucky little freshman runner from Greenfield, finished third; Fred Johnston, of Girard, another freshman, was fourth and Kimmel, still another freshman was fifth. Scott scored sixth place for the sophomores, Miller landed seventh for the juniors and Smith, a freshman, was eighth. Thus it is seen that the freshmen won first, third, fourth, fifth and eighth places; second and seventh went to the sophomores and eighth to the juniors.

Of the men who ran today, Pittman, Overby, Johnson, and Kimmel give promise of developing into track men who will undoubtedly be heard from again during the coming track season. The race today concludes the cross country running for these men. They will rest during the Easter vacation and about April 14, will again start training in preparation for the dual track meets the first of which will be on the 28th of April when the Shurtliff college team comes to the local track for a contest.

Pittman will receive the gold medal awarded to the winner of today's race. Dale will draw the silver one and the bronze one will go to Overby.

TWO WILS PLACED ON COUNTY RECORDS

The will of the late Miss Eva Gunn filed for probate in the office of County Clerk Riggs, provides that the sum of $300 be invested in government bonds, the fund to be used for the care of a lot in Jacksonville cemetery.

The testatrix made a bequest of a residence property at 832 Duolia avenue to the Methodist conference for the benefit of conference claimants.

The remainder of the estate is bequeathed to Mrs. Emma Fentemaker of this city, who together with H. E. Heaton of Manchester will execute the will. The document was drawn May 2, 1918, with Charles A. Johnson and Miss Elizabeth Dunavan witnessing the signature of the testatrix.

S. H. Bracewell of Murrayville is named as executor of the will of Mrs. Mary E. Crouse of Murrayville. Provision is made for the payment of debts and a bequest of $1500 is made to Dean Crouse, son of the testatrix. The executor is empowered to convert the remainder of the estate into cash and to divide the property between Dean Crouse and John J. Reeve, the latter as trustee. The fund in the trustee's hand is to be used for the education and support of three grandchildren of the testatrix, Ethel, Helen and Mary Crouse. When the youngest becomes of age the fund is to be divided among them.

The will was made August 25, 1908, with Mrs. Lida Simpson and J. Marshall Miller witnessing the signature of the testatrix.

AN UNUSUAL BOOK THEME (By J. G. Ames)

An interesting and instructive book, "Funeral Management and Costs," was recently given to the Illinois College Library by its author, The Reverend Quincy L. Dowd, of Lombard, Illinois, a friend and classmate of the late Dean F. S. Hayden.

The volume is the result of a broad survey made by Dr. Dowd of burial practices, customs and costs in both the United States and other countries and has for its avowed purpose the awakening of interest in certain "significant and heart moving facts" which show the need in America for efficient, municipal management and control of burial, and public protection on behalf of all citizens rich and poor alike, whether the disposition of the dead be by burial or by cremation.

The author, after two chapters on "The Cost of Dying" and "The Undertaking Trade" deals with questions of industrial insurance, compensation laws, last sickness and kindred matters and justifies himself by the stern facts that human burial is accompanied by a dire mass of accumulated exactions and costs from which there is no escape and which the family budget must take account of.

Dr. Dowd cites the burial practices and costs in practically every country of the world, especially pointing out that burial municipalization in France and Switzerland, which give over to each city or commune burial management subject to provisions of state statutes, has had most beneficial results for the public.

There is not the least doubt that the cruel costs of burying our beloved dead, whether that cost arises from false pride, "commercialized appeals to vulgar vanity," or the "ghoulish preying upon the torn tendrils of the heart," is in seventy-five per cent of our funerals a financial millstone tied about the necks of the bereaved families, and something which no one would more rebel against, if he could, than the departed loved one.

The final chapters of the book contain a history of cremation with statistics showing its growing use in almost all of the countries of Europe and in America and a statement of its cost, which compared with burial, is very decidedly less, to say nothing of economies secured in health, in sanitary protection, and in land.

Dr. Dowd discusses sanely, frankly, yet tenderly a subject in which everyone sooner or later must be interested. We wish that this book might have so wide a circulation that public opinion would demand municipal regulations or management of burial or of cremation with at least fixed undertaking charges, protecting from extortion without invading personal preference, and ultimately simpler funerals with more moderate burial expenses—or better still, cremation.

STANLEY WRIGHT
ACCEPTS NOMINATION FOR MAYOR

I did not seek the nomination for mayor of Jacksonville, but enough votes were cast at the recent primary to give me the nomination and I have decided to accept.

I am becoming an active candidate because I feel that the people are entitled to and want a choice of candidates and because so many responsible citizens have urged me to accept the nomination I think it would be unfair if I refused.

As a candidate I believe my fellow townsmen have a right to know my views on questions that are of common interest and in a brief way I am stating what may be termed my platform.

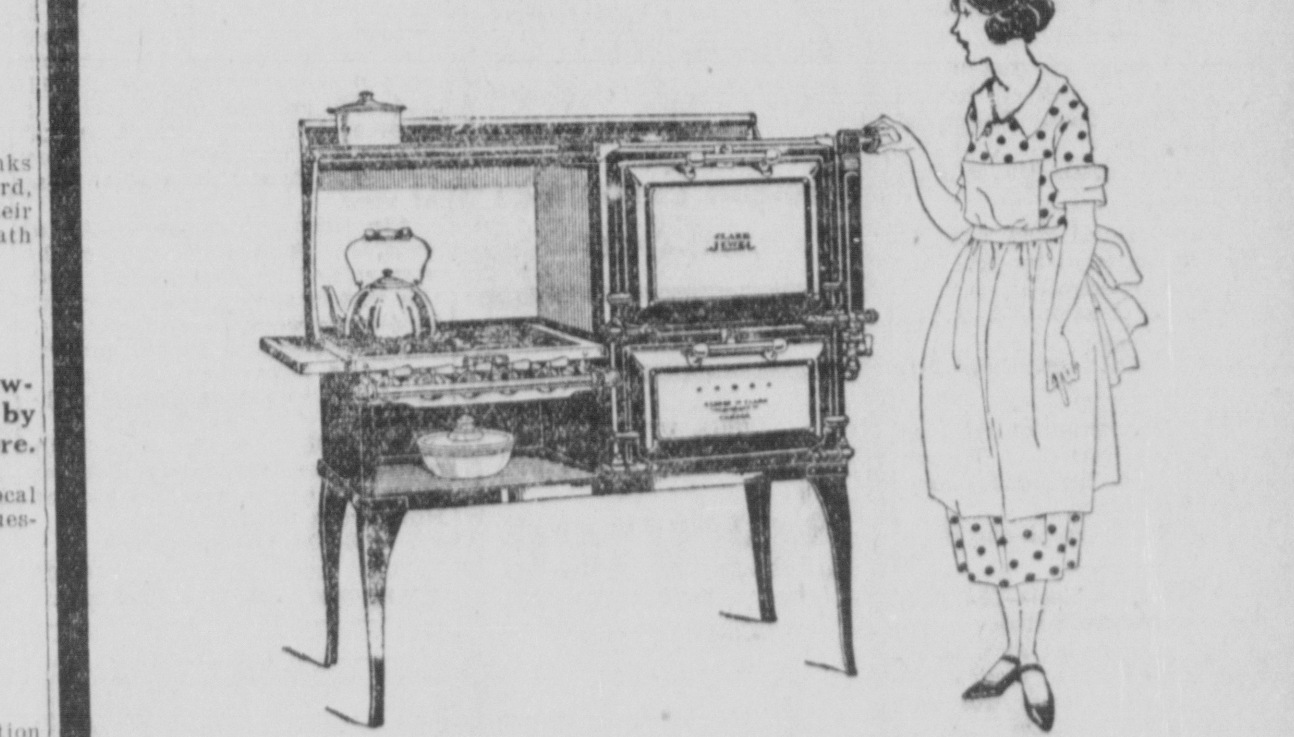

I believe in majority rule, whether it be a question of public policy, pavement or any improvement. I believe, that with all the general and special taxes with which we are burdened, the wheel tax is an imposition on the citizens of Jacksonville. I believe that the mayor should give enough time to the supervision of the city's business to assure efficiency and economy and that if he does so, he earns his salary.

Being a wage earner myself, I would expect to be paid and at the same time I assure you that my salary would be earned. I cannot afford to work without pay and the law does not expect it. The mayor of a city of this size can be of far more service to his community than can be measured by the few dollars he receives as salary.

I was born and educated in Jacksonville. I am for the city and it's people of every class.

If elected I promise only this: I will give you a business-like administration and my sole aim will be the greatest good for the people of our city.

How About Next Winter's Coal

Roger W. Babson, the Statistician, Suggests Solution for Fuel Troubles

Would Force Operators to Compete—and Protect Public from Combination of Either Miners or Owners

Wellesley, Hills, Mass., March 25.—Roger W. Babson, statistician and business authority, has some very decided views on the coal situation—and he has a solution.

"Within another week the coal famine should be over. If the weather runs according to the almanac, everyone will be able to get all the coal he needs after April 1."

"But is the coal problem settled? 'Decidedly' not," says Roger W. Babson, the statistician who demands that the coal problem be solved this spring when it can be solved and that we do not wait until next winter when it will be too late to do anything but rush around feverishly to try to get enough coal to tide us thru the zero weather.

"We are a lot like the man who had a leak in his roof," says Mr. Babson. "When it wasn't raining it didn't need fixing. When it was raining, he couldn't fix it. As a result we have repeated tie-ups; in the spring, scare talk by the coal dealers; in the summer, strikes; and in the winter, the actual shortage. The attached table will give you a picture of the situation as it is. You will note that there hasn't been a single year in which strikes and lockouts have not caused loss in coal production which meant higher costs to the consumer.

"It now looks as though history were going to repeat itself again. We are threatened with another coal strike this spring.

"If it is allowed to go into effect, it will spell another shortage and more suffering next year.

"Six such serious tie-ups in the last twenty-five years are a plenty and it is possible that we may arrive at the solution of the problem by analyzing the cause of these several tie-ups. In studying them, I find that they are surprisingly alike. In each case miners and operators have had what they thought was a real grievance and real difference. In each case the government has attempted to deal with the problem by appointing a commission.

Public Has Little Choice.

"In 1897 public sympathy was largely with the miners who had a just grievance. As we get down to 1922, however, we find the miners becoming quite able to take care of themselves. There is little choice between the miners and operators as to which was the aggressor and which the aggressed.

Both now have powerful fighting machines and both apparently are actuated by the same motive—to get all they can for themselves and to give as little as they can.

The third party in argument, the great consuming public, has not done so very well. In every single instance on record it has taken most of the beating and has meekly appointed a commission to patch up the quarrel between the other two parties. After being mauled and bled and robbed by a half a dozen operators and a few thousand miners, the hundred million consumers have begged congress to appoint a commission, simply because the thing always had been done and it is assumed, therefore, that it must always be done.

"I personally do not know much about what went on inside the commission meetings. One only judge by results and it is evident that little or nothing has been accomplished.

"In 1897, for instance, a compromise was made between operator and miner, on September 3. Wages were increased 20 per cent and miners and operators agreed to meet in January, 1898, for the purpose of forming a wage scale and making an annual contract. The strike was very successful from the miners' point of view.

"In 1902 thru the mediation of President Roosevelt the strike was settled on October 23, with the understanding that questions in dispute would be submitted to a commission. A 10 per cent increase in wages and a reduction of hours were granted to the miners.

"In 1906 the strike was finally settled thru agreement between operators and miners themselves. Not thru a third party.

Strike Is Expensive.

"On April 1, 1910, 300,000 miners went out. The agreements

WATER PAGEANT BE PRESENTED HERE

Red Cross May Arrange for Water Carnival as Feature of Opening of New Municipal Swimming Pool.

A water pageant may be a feature of the ceremonial at the time of the opening of the new swimming pool at Nichols park. Tentative plans for such a pageant are now being made by the Red Cross and if arrangements can be made the pageant will be presented.

Chauncey Hyatt, life saving director from the Central Division Red Cross office, will come to this city sometime during April and will speak before the various clubs and organizations, urging the establishment of a life saving corps here. Should the pageant plans be carried to completion Mr. Hyatt would be in charge of the various events.

The Boy Scout and Camp Fire girls organizations of the city are planning to unite in the campaign for the establishment of a life saving corps. These organizations have adopted the Red Cross Junior Life Saving tests as their badge requirements, and Mr. Hyatt will devote a part of his time while in the city to addresses to the Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls.

OBITUARY.

Nancy Ann McPherson, daughter of James and Elizabeth McPherson, was born in Muhlenberg county, Kentucky, April 8, 1822, and departed this life March 24, 1923, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Alred. In the year 1827 she accompanied her parents to Illinois, first settling in St. Clair county near the site of East St. Louis. In 1834 the family came to Scott county, Illinois, and settling on a tract of timber land, three miles west of Manchester, Ill. and Mrs. Moore, has continuously resided in this vicinity since her coming here. Mrs. Moore was the eldest of a family of thirteen children. All preceding her in death.

In 1838 Mrs. Moore united with the M. E. church in which she continued her membership. October 27, 1850 she was united in marriage to John Moore, who died in 1867. Mrs. Moore had 55 years of widowhood. Surviving are two sons and one daughter, Andrew Moore of Athensville, John D. Moore of White Hall, and Mrs. W. P. Alred, of Manchester. She leaves eight grandchildren and seventeen great grandchildren to mourn her departure. Besides many relatives and friends throughout this section of the country.

Sabbath observance from our earliest recollections, Grand Ma always made ready for the Sabbath by preparing the food as nearly as possible. She enjoyed the day, she attended the church services regularly until age prevented her attendance, although limited in book study, on the Sabbath her fingers would slowly trace the words of her testament, which gave her the knowledge of God's word.

Freitag.

The death of Mrs. Minnie Freitag, wife of Charles Freitag, occurred at her home one mile southeast of Winchester at 12:45 o'clock Tuesday, March 27th.

The deceased was born April 30, 1877. December 31, 1902, she was married to Charles Freitag of Jacksonville. To this union five children were born: Pearl, Edna, Irene and Charles, Jr., who with the father survive. One child passed away in infancy.

The time of the funeral will be announced later.

THE EMPORIUM

union. The public does not know which is right, but it does know when either group secures complete control it becomes inefficient, careless, and arrogant. So long as there is real and fair competition, both sides are kept on their toes. If it is really true that the open shop plan is more efficient than the closed shop, then the open shop mines will gradually get the greater part of the country's business. The same will be true if the miners can demonstrate that their plan is the better.

"An interstate commerce commission has helped greatly in solving our transportation problems and insuring service for the public. A similar body as 'referee' with power to enforce its rulings would do much to insure real competition and, therefore, good service in the coal industry."

An unusually interesting meeting of Phi Alpha society was held at the society hall at Illinois college Tuesday night. Howard Wilson, a past member of the society, who is attending the University of Chicago, was present and gave an interesting talk.

A reply was received from the challenge sent to Sigma Pi society for a debate indicating that the Sigma Pi members believe that it is now too late in the season to arrange for the suggested contest.

The following is an outline of the Tuesday evening program:

Essayists: Underwood, "Our Buried Soldiers"; Bracewell, "The Vaudeville Mind."

Declaimers: Mabrey, "An Overworked Phocionist"; Henry, "A Clipping from Bourke's Orator"; Chaney, "Ideal Citizenship."

MAN KILLED ON FARM NEAR HERE TUESDAY

George Howell, a Farm Hand Falls on Knives of Pulverizer and Dies from Cuts in Head—Body Discovered by Farmers Last Night.

George Howell, a resident of Beardstown, was killed sometime yesterday afternoon while operating a pulverizer on the farm of John G. Russwinkel in the Arcadia neighborhood. The body was discovered by Mr. Russwinkel when he went to the field at 6 o'clock last night in search of Howell, who had failed to come to the house with his team at the usual quitting time.

Coroner C. A. Rose was notified and went to the Russwinkel home, where an inquest was held. The body was later removed to Beardstown this morning. Howell was about 60 years of age, and is survived by his wife, who lives in Beardstown.

Testimony at the inquest gives the story of Howell's death about as follows: The man had been employed as a hand on the Russwinkel farm since last Wednesday. It was his custom to come in from the field at 6 o'clock the evening. When he failed to appear at usual time last night, Mr. Russwinkel went in search of him. Upon approaching the field he saw the team which Howell been driving standing down a hollow. He went up to the team and saw the body of Howell lying on the ground with the head resting between the hind legs of the right hand horse. Russwinkel immediately summoned J. Ator, a farmer living nearby, who remained on watch while other went to summon further assistance.

It was the opinion of the farmers who found Howell, that he had fallen from the pulverizer had cut his head on one of the knives. The lines which were wrapped about his feet, had been drawn taut and brought the team to a stop. James Charlesworth, another neighbor of Mr. Russwinkel, was also called and the body of Howell lying on the horse's feet.

The jury found that Howell came to his death by falling from a pulverizer, while at his work on the farm of John Russwinkel.

Those who made up the coroners' jury were Owen G. Dinwiddie, Fred McFadden, J. Gindor, Walter White, William Ator and Ralph Withee, clerk.

I. W. C. GYM TAXED BEYOND CAPACITY

The present gymnasium of the Illinois Woman's college is already becoming overcrowded, and there is not sufficient room for the many activities which should go on there. The girls are using one locker room, and one of the front corridors in the main building for gymnasium purposes, as well as other parts of the building. It will be remembered that the gymnasium has been in use only a few years, and its capacity has already been reached.

Easter vacation at the Woman's college begins with the close of classes next Thursday afternoon, and the students are expected to be on hand for classes at 8 o'clock the following Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Everett and Miss Genevieve Stacey were shoppers in the city this afternoon from Winchester.

CITIZENS OUGHT NOT CRITICIZE OFFICERS

Men Who Administer County Affairs Say Wrong Understanding and Criticism Makes Trouble for Them—Forum Proves Interesting and Profitable.

Far too many citizens criticize a county official before getting a real understanding of the limitations, powers and duties of the office, was the opinion of Morgan county executives as expressed at the forum meeting Tuesday evening. State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson and Judge H. P. Samuel had something to say as to this tendency of the average citizen, a habit which often leads to wrong conclusions and embarrassment to the county officer.

Mr. Robinson said in part: "The duties of the states attorney's office are often unpleasant. He is the prosecutor of criminals, and he is the only one in the county who has this duty laid upon him. He has many limitations, which no one who has not occupied the office or tried to prosecute a man who has committed a crime, can understand. A man never really knows how many privileges he has as a citizen until he is being prosecuted for a crime. Then he learns what it means to be a citizen."

"The matter of jury service is a problem in Morgan county. This is one of the duties of a citizen; and yet most of the good citizens rush to be excused when they are impaneled on a jury. You should not do it. This practice of the better class of citizens is not followed in other counties, and its prevalence here often leads to the miscarriage and delay of justice."

"There seem to be a large number of cold check artists around Jacksonville. Now the payment of the check has nothing to do with the removal of guilt for the crime, and yet merchants ask the states attorney to forego prosecution of those who will settle the matter by paying the check. This is wrong, and efforts to stop prosecution in such cases embarrasses the state's attorney and perverts justice."

Protect Boys and Girls. Judge Samuel laid emphasis on the necessity for the citizens to co-operate in rooting out immoral homes and bad environment for the boys and girls of the county. He warned his audience that no court or probation officer can correct the evil entirely. He praised the work of the Social Service League, and stated that it is not being adequately supported financially by the citizens.

Dr. R. V. Brokaw, the county health officer, explained the work of his department, emphasizing the fact that it is county wide and reaches into many lines of activity. Circuit Clerk F. E. Wannamaker suggested that citizens become more familiar with what can be done by the circuit clerk and the work that goes on in his office, so that they will not make mistakes. County Clerk G. L. Riggs spoke along a similar line suggesting that citizens should become more familiar with the time and nature of the various elections, and that everyone should vote whenever the opportunity was given.

County Commissioner G. A. Dunlap spoke for the board and invited the citizens to visit the commissioners' office and get acquainted with their work.

The program of speeches by the county officials was preceded by the presentation of some very clever theatrical and dramatic sketches by students of the Illinois Woman's college. The attendance prize for the evening was won by P. J. Shanahan. About 150 persons, members and guests of the Chamber of Commerce were in attendance. Following the formal program, refreshments consisting of soft drinks, sandwiches and cakes were served by the entertainment committee, under the direction of the chairman Arthur G. Cooy.

FUNERALS

Williams. Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Williams were held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Ethel A. M. E. church, in charge of Rev. W. H. Snowden. Music was furnished by the church choir. Interment took place in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Atwood. The funeral of Mrs. A. W. Atwood was held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the residence of her sisters, Mrs. L. K. Hatch and Miss Fannie King, 830 West state street.

The services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Marbach, pastor of State Street Presbyterian church. Mr. Marbach offered prayer and read various passages of scripture and then the verses of a hymn. The minister mentioned that the verses were those that Mrs. Atwood had chosen many months ago and written out with the thought that they be read at the funeral service.

The minister mentioned Mrs. Atwood's patience and the gentleness with which she met the affairs of life. From the residence the cortege moved to Diamond Grove cemetery, where the committal service was said by Rev. Mr. Marbach. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. E. B. Wiswell and Miss Amy DeMotte.

A NOTABLE CHANCE

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)

A real estate abstract is apt to be an abstruse document especially when it runs to 40 or more pages of legal cap paper. It is capable of being interesting in many respects and is often especially so historically.

All our people know where the lot at the southeast corner of East State street and the public square is located. Technically it is described as lot 97 in the original plat of the town of Jacksonville. The writer has been looking over the abstract to this property. It was entered by Isaac Dial in February, 1825, and John Quincy Adams, president of the U. S., signed the patent; the land afterward becoming part of this city. It passed thru many owners, the mere naming of whom would make a considerable part of the history of this place, and the various occupants and users of lot 97, would extend the list of names.

First Brick Building. Upon the north part of this lot was built the first brick building in Jacksonville. This was done for Mr. John T. Wilkinson in the year 1828, and it was used thereafter as a store on the first floor.

Mr. Wilkinson himself probably first used it in that way. He was an uncle of Mrs. Charles Rockwell and Mrs. L. A. Frost, to whom more or less reference was made in this column in the last two O. J. articles.

Mrs. Rockwell was the daughter of Mr. O. Wilkinson. They came here from Kentucky but were of Virginia birth or descent. It is perhaps a coincidence that Mr. Wilkinson built perhaps the first brick residence in the town, and it was certainly a large and notable mansion. It stood at the southeast corner of West College avenue and Church street. It was last occupied and owned by Edward R. Elliott of the great banking firm of Hockenhull, King & Elliott, and Mr. Elliott replaced it in 1863 with his handsome frame residence. The lot is now occupied by the Central Christian church.

When the writer first noticed the East State street store it had a sign over it reading "F. and B. Stevenson." That was in 1856. The F. Stevenson presumably had been Mr. Fleming Stevenson, brother of Benjamin F., but the former was not then a member of the firm. Mr. B. F. Stevenson occupied the store room until about 1872; later by having A. C. Woods, formerly of Franklin, as a partner.

Many Occupants. Various persons have occupied the store room since, Melton & Van Zandt, Hoffman Bros., and just lately J. Herman, who was there the longest of all the group. Two standbys as clerks for Mr. Stevenson were William A. Oliver and Samuel Brockman.

CHAPIN WOMAN'S CLUB HAD MEETING TUESDAY

Mrs. Ada Funk Was Hostess to Club Women Yesterday Afternoon—Other News from Chapin

Chapin, March 27.—Mrs. Ada Funk was hostess to the Chapin Woman's club Tuesday afternoon. Famous Americans of Foreign Birth were named in answer to roll call and many interesting events in their lives were discussed. Mrs. Grover Smith read an interesting and instructive paper on "Present Day Methods of Americanization." Mrs. E. H. Nienhuuser read about "Ambergis." Miss Helen Sidles gave two readings, "A Burglar Caught by a Woman" and "The Birth of St. Patrick." Miss Angie Joy also gave two readings, "Green Eyed Billy" and "Chums." During the social hour the hostess served delicious refreshments. Guests were: Mrs. Elsie Adams, Mrs. Chester Williams, Mrs. Frank Brockhouse and the Misses Angie Joy and Helen Sidles.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Allen and little son, Tom, of Versailles were Tuesday guests of relative here.

Arthur French of the Western Military Academy at East Alton is expected home Wednesday for the Easter vacation.

A pleasant social event occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Ham Monday evening. The party was a surprise to Mr. Ham being in honor of his birthday and was planned by his sister, Mrs. W. W. Anderson. The evening was spent playing Rook. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Nienhuuser, Mrs. Ellen Coultas and T. L. Markham.

An enthusiastic meeting in the interest of the Farm Bureau movement was held in the assembly of the grade school Monday night. Mr. Corbin gave an interesting and instructive address on "Economics of Farming Situation," illustrating his talk with the motion pictures, "Forward Farm Bureau." Alget Bartelheim presided at the meeting.

Miss Margaret Burmeister of Minneapolis, Minn., a student at the state university is spending her Easter vacation with Miss Dorothy Kennedy.

Upstairs over the store room were rooms occupied by various and well known people in business lines. One was used as a photograph gallery by W. Tanay, there for years. Further back, entered from East State street were rooms where the Weekly Morgan Journal had its office. It was there, under the ownership and editorial management of the Hon. W. H. Collins, last of Quincy, that the printing establishment burned out, in 1859. This cost the paper its files for years back. Mr. Collins changed its name to the Jacksonville Journal, but it was still a weekly until 1866.

A new corner in Jacksonville was Joshua Moore, who came July 9, 1857. A few days after taking up his residence here Mr. Moore took his little boy down town with him one forenoon. At that time there was a little part of the Wilkinson building two stories high that fronted north on State street. It was occupied as a bank by Elliott & Brown, Edward R. Elliott, father of the present head of the Elliott State Bank, and Judge William Brown, uncle of the late Hon. William Brown, and brother of Dr. Lloyd W. Brown.

Mr. Moore called in at Elliott & Brown's that morning and his little boy saw inside of a bank for the first time. And also they first saw Mr. Elliott. Judge Brown was neighbor of the Moores across State street west.

A Banking Change. Mr. Elliott retired from the bank of which Mr. Moore was a customer, soon after, and William and E. W. Brown occupied the building at the northeast corner of East State street and the public square. The Brown interests afterward built the Central Illinois bank, now occupied by the Farrell State bank.

It is somewhat singular that during later years the Hockenhull Elliott bank had business claims on the Wilkinson building, which by the way was two and a half stories in height. And later on J. Weir Elliott also had a claim in a business way on that building.

It seems as if the Elliott banking instinct for drawings had a continued inclination to own or occupy that site.

This may have been the unseen or unsuspected reason why Mr. Frank Elliott of the Elliott State bank of today, should take over the Wilkinson corner and pioneer brick building and now be having the old building torn down and taken away to give place to another and far more elegant house in which to conduct his growing business. The new treasure house being one creditable to the state as well as to the city. May it stand as long as longer than its predecessor and may its success be fitting to the good old "Bank of England."

WITH THE SICK

Mrs. Mary Spencer of South Prairie street, is seriously ill at the Home Sanitarium.

Mrs. L. C. Matthews, who has been very ill with pneumonia at her home on East College street, is now improving. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Matthews of Springfield have been in Jacksonville for nearly two weeks on account of Mrs. Matthews' illness.

HOTEL CAMPAIGN TEAMS SEEK NEW PROSPECTS

Canvass for Funds Move Along Steadily—Sum Total Now Past the $150,000 Mark.

The subscription list for Jacksonville's new hotel passed the $150,000 mark Tuesday afternoon. At the luncheon held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, attended by team captains and workers, subscriptions were reported which brought the total to $149,000. While reports were not expected from different teams it is known that subscriptions received during the afternoon brought the total well beyond the $150,000 mark, which means that something more than 75 per cent of the total amount sought has been secured.

The workers all reported increasing interest in the project as people come to a more thorough understanding of the need for a hotel and the advantages that will accrue to the city in a commercial way.

A Logical Development.
A. A. Curry was one of those called upon to speak and made mention of the enlarged hotel facilities at Chillicothe, Mo., a city which several years ago he had frequent occasion to visit.

At one time it was almost impossible to get a room in this hotel and almost as soon as one addition was built another one was necessary, because of the increased patronage that came along with the enlarged and better facilities.

Mr. Curry said that as he traveled about he could not help but occasionally wonder why Jacksonville does not furnish better hotel accommodations. He said that it should be a comparatively easy matter to find a hundred men willing to subscribe $1,000 and that the additional fund necessary should come easily.

Mr. Curry suggested that the water supply is the most important thing for a city, and now that has been settled so far as Jacksonville is concerned, that a hotel project is but a logical thing and is certain to bring its return to all the city in increased business and in helping along with property values.

Let's Build "The Best."
M. F. Dunlap, answering a question with reference to the probable cost of hotel building said that as he understood the general purpose, it is to erect the best hotel that can be had for the funds available. It is Mr. Dunlap's thought that the new Jacksonville hotel should be so good that it will serve as an advertisement of Jacksonville throughout a broad territory.

"The hotel here," he said, "should be of such a kind that travellers in planning their itinerary will want to stop here instead of in some other cities. This can be done and such a hotel will be the most wonderful advertisement that this city could have."

"What we want is not a hotel as good as those in other cities but better. This does not mean necessarily larger, but it is quality of equipment and service that we want here. One of the important things for us to emphasize in connection with the hotel project is that no one associated with it is seeking any personal gain. The greatest care must be used to keep out any thought of personal interest. When it comes to the matter of location I, and no doubt the others actively engaged in this enterprise, will favor that location which is best for the success of the project."

"For myself I have never given this matter of location serious thought and I speak of it merely to emphasize the fact that in the pre-campaign days and in the campaign itself the purpose has been to arrange for a first class modern hotel building in Jacksonville, leaving questions of detail such as location, type of building and etc. for later decision. There can be no question as to the value of a new hotel to the community."

Business Man's Investment.
"As to the project from an investment standpoint, the more I look into the proposition the more promising it seems. However, I have all along stated that this appeals to me as a business man's investment and therefore one which a certain element of chance as to the interest return on the investment must be taken into account."

Harrison King laid emphasis upon the extent of the territory about Jacksonville into which the new hotel can reach before coming into competition with cities as large or larger, Springfield, Bloomington, Quincy and Alton, on the east, north, west and south.

Henry Frisch commented upon the fact that visitors here often say that Jacksonville people have a better city than they realize and Mr. Frisch suggested that this is apt to be the case from the fact that residents form the habit of looking out from the inside, while those who look in have the advantage of viewpoint.

Others who spoke briefly or were called upon to make reports about subscriptions were R. Y. Rowe, G. H. Kopper, L. F. Randall, T. A. Chapin, L. S. Reid, J. H. Dial, E. A. Brennan, Walter Ayers, H. L. Caldwell, W. T. Capps, J. R. Harker, H. M. Capps, John G. Berger, Carl York, H. E. Wheeler, Felix Farrell, P. V. Coover, H. M. Andre, T. W. Beadle, F. J. Blackburn, C. H. Russell, H. K. Snyder, G. S. WILLIAM OOLEY TO GIVE RADIO PROGRAM

The Jacksonville friends of William Ooley, gifted tenor of Los Angeles, Calif., will be interested in knowing that the choir of which he is director will give a full cantata next Thursday evening, March 29, from the Los Angeles Times radio, K. H. J. The concert is to be between 8 and 10 o'clock p. m., Los Angeles time, which will mean between 10:30 and 12:30 in Jacksonville.

This information is contained in a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. William Newman, who not long since were to Mr. Ooley of hearing a part of the cantata program given by the Orpheus club of Los Angeles in which Mr. Ooley is the tenor soloist.

In his letter Mr. Ooley says that he will make it a point to speak to Jacksonville Thursday night and it will be a special pleasure to him to know that Jacksonville friends are listening in.

Mr. Ooley has under his direction a choir of 60 voices and the organization has built up a great reputation in Los Angeles under his leadership. That this former Jacksonville young man is both busy and successful in his work is indicated by the recent complimentary references to him made in the Los Angeles papers. In addition to being director of music in Occidental college and with the choir mentioned, Mr. Ooley finds some time for concert work.

CATTLE DIE FROM POISONED FEED
Farmers and stockmen throughout the state have been greatly interested in the serious happening on a farm near Abingdon, when more than 70 steers died from a mysterious poison cause. The Chicago Drovers Journal gives an extended account of the happening.

The cattle weighed from 1200 to 1400 pounds and were on full feed. A car load of shelled corn which had been purchased from an elevator company was found to be mixed with a white substance which evidently poisoned the animals.

Thus far there has been no satisfactory explanation of this poisoning, which resulted in a very heavy loss to L. H. Robertson, the owner of the cattle.

D. A. R. MEMBERS HEAR INSPIRING ADDRESS

H. H. Bancroft Spoke of Morgan County Centennial at March Meeting of Rev. James Caldwell Chapter D. A. R. Held Tuesday Afternoon

The March meeting of the Rev. James Caldwell Chapter D. A. R. was one of unusual interest. First on the program was a report by Mrs. B. E. Chabtree, who was a delegate to the state conference at Streator. She said that there are 7,841 members of the D. A. R. in Illinois, organized in 85 chapters. She gave briefly a resume of the business and social part of the conference, which was of unusual interest.

The regent, Mrs. W. Barr Brown, announced the plans which are being made for the state encampment to the Spanish War veterans. The Daughters of the American Revolution are asked to co-operate with the local camp of the S. W. V. in the entertainment of these Illinois veterans during the encampment which is to be held June 14-15 and 16. On motion it was agreed to co-operate with Col. O. C. Smith in plans for the entertainment of the veterans.

The music of the afternoon was most enjoyable and consisted of a couple of numbers given by the Girls Glee club of Illinois college Conservatory. Miss Ruth Armstrong directed the Glee club with Miss Smith at the piano.

The Glee club girls sang "Snow Flakes" by Cowan and "Don't You Cry, Ma Honey," by Noel. In response to a hearty encore the girls sang "Ma Honey."

H. H. Bancroft, who was the inspiring spirit in the purchase of the Duncan Memorial, was the speaker of the afternoon. The regent, Mrs. Brown, paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Bancroft's interest and help which have been given actively and always to the Rev. James Caldwell Chapter. His subject was "The Morgan County Centennial of 1923."

Standing in the same spot where in September, 1919, Mr. Bancroft urged the Daughters of the Rev. James Caldwell chapter to purchase the Duncan Memorial, he made the suggestion that in the coming summer a Home Coming day for Morgan county would be most auspicious and interesting.

"There were giants in those days," might have been the text for Mr. Bancroft's address. "I hear the tread of pioneers, Of nations yet to be, The first low murmur of the waves, Where soon shall roll the human sea."

Mr. Bancroft traced the first settlements of Morgan county from 1818 until the latter days. Seymour Kellogg, who was a colonel in the war of 1812, was one of the earliest comers to Morgan county. David Berdan, Isaac Fox, Ross and George Nixon were appointed by the New York immigration society in 1819 to go west and investigate the Illinois country. They arrived in Morgan county in February, 1820. Isaac Fox was the first white man to die in Morgan county.

Mr. Bancroft touched most feelingly upon the intense hardships of those early pioneers. He mentioned the great pride that citizens of Morgan county should feel in the first things that have taken place here. Jacksonville was the site of the first medical college in the west. Morgan county saw the first steam engine in Illinois put on the rails at Mercedosa. A manual training school at Ebenezer under the direction of the Rev. Peter Akers was another thing spoken of.

Mr. Bancroft stressed the wonderful ideals of high and noble living that made these men, like Abraham of old, leave their comfortable homes in the east and go forward to help settle a new country. Every word and paragraph of Mr. Bancroft's speech was listened to with eager and earnest attention by the Daughters.

The hostesses of the afternoon, under the efficient chairmanship of Mrs. Ensley Moore, were Mrs. Nettie E. Mills, Mrs. Lydia H. Moss, Miss Lucy A. Mount, Mrs. Dorothy D. Newman, Miss Elizabeth E. Newman, Miss Ella M. Newman, Miss Mary L. Newman, Mrs. Anna B. Osborne, Miss Amy Onken, Mrs. Almira O. Phelps, Mrs. Mary S. Price, Miss Mary Price, Miss Daisy Rayhill, Mrs. Caroline H. Reid, Mrs. Lucinda G. Ritchey, Mrs. Cynthia H. Roberts, Mrs. Emeline O. Robertson, Mrs. Laura Rogers, Mrs. Louise B. Russel.

Mrs. Evans of Bluffs was a new member present. Mrs. F. J. Waddell and Mrs. Harry Brady were welcomed back after a winter's vacation in California.

WHITE HALL PLANS TO ORGANIZE C. OF C.

Movement Given Impetus at Community Forum Held at Princess Theatre Sunday Evening — Interesting Addresses Made by Various Speakers.

White Hall, March 27.—Preliminary plans looking to the organization of a Chamber of Commerce in White Hall were given tremendous impetus at the third quarterly Community Forum held in the Princess theatre on Sunday night under the auspices of the First Baptist church. The K. of P. band furnished music, and its work was in keeping with a comment earlier in the day by J. Bart Johnson of Jacksonville, who was in the city between trains with his Illinois College band, returning from an engagement in Greenfield. Mr. Johnson has a large personal acquaintance with White Hall musicians and he stated that there is no question about the high standing of the local band organization with the training of new material from among the young citizens.

The proceedings opened in religious order under the direction of Rev. L. E. Ellison, and Dr. F. N. McLaren was then called to serve as chairman. Attorney H. O. Tunison outlined the plan of procedure in bringing about the new organization, stating that a state representative will come to White Hall early in May for the purpose of crystallizing the educational work along this line that will be continued energetically. "White Hall must keep pace with Urban centers," Mr. Tunison said, "owing to paved roads and rapid transit, a Chamber of Commerce is a great incentive to the advancement of a city."

Stanley Thomas, the youthful merchant-orator, listed the order of progress in the development of the community as, first, agriculture; second, transportation; third, manufacturing. "A Chamber of Commerce should be organized to promote industry," he said.

E. L. Lukeman explained the workings of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, its failures and its present great success. These points were also stressed by Dr. W. H. Garrison and E. C. Pearce.

Wendell the Main Speaker. Justice E. L. Wendell was the main speaker of the evening, and he covered the larger achievements and the possibilities of White Hall in a spirited address of twenty-five minutes, from which the following extracts are made.

"I venture to say that no city of three thousand population in the state has more energetic or a more devoted body of business men who stand higher in honesty, morality and square dealing than we can show here in White Hall."

"One of the characteristics of the times is the fact in our great state and agricultural counties have been slowly diminishing in population during the last quarter of a century. This is true of Greene county, which in the last twenty-five years has steadily declined in population."

"During the same period White Hall has increased more than a thousand in population and is still growing. In taxable wealth White Hall township leads in the sum of half a million dollars over the next wealthiest township in the county."

"Our two banks are financial Gibraltar. The men who conduct them are conservative, have years of experience in the banking business, and are the solid men of the community. During the financial storms of the last two years they have stood like granite mountains."

"Our city government has been clean, economical and efficient. Mayor Roodhouse has devoted a great deal of his time to the affairs of the city. Economy has been the keynote of his administration."

"In education White Hall is no way behind cities of similar size in this state, and is far in advance of some of them. Our new high school building will be the pride of our city when it is completed."

"The magnificent gifts of the late Mrs. Seth N. Griswold and those of her husband are acts of philanthropy that has not been duplicated by any city in the state of three thousand population. I refer to Whiteside Park and the Whiteside-Griswold Memorial Library, together with other expenditures in improving and perfecting their gifts as marks of affection for the people of White Hall."

"Our church buildings are worthy of the community. The stately and dignified Presbyterian edifice is a monument to the good taste in matters of architecture. The Methodist Episcopal is finest and most dignified of the up-right Gothic architecture in all Western Illinois, and its architect and builder was a citizen of White Hall. The Christian church with its beautiful clock tower and its neat and attractive interior is a credit to the community. The new First Baptist will be the largest church building and the most thoroughly modern in the city. In church attendance and in Sunday school attendance we are the equal of any similar city in the state."

"What is the matter with us? We need to get together and to pull together for a bigger White Hall. We can do this; we can bring things to pass. We don't want a boom; we want steady, healthy growth. I have seen a few booms, and I ask you to avoid a boom as you would a rattlesnake."

"We need a Chamber of Commerce for the protection of business. The business men of White Hall are losing thousands of dollars by dead beats imposing on them."

"We need a Chamber of Commerce to promote the growth and development of our one great asset, the clay industry. John Ebey made stoneware in White Hall as early as 1833. Michael Baker made stoneware east of this city in the fifties. The industry properly began in 1864 when John Ebey moved from Chapin to White Hall, and established the pottery afterward owned and operated by Hill & Pringle. The makers of the White Hall of today were in large degree men who were connected with the clay industry—A. D. Ruckel, David Culbertson, Augustus Pierce, William Walton

Arnold and his brother, Shaylor S. Arnold. The two Arnolds were sons of a poverty-stricken Congregational minister. David Culbertson was the village blacksmith. A. D. Ruckel was a railroad machinist by trade.

"The clay industry is our one great natural asset. Our clay contains the least percentage of iron of any clay in the state. The earliest application of steam power to the industry in this state occurred here in all probability. The stoneware produced here is known for its superior gloss and finish from the Alleghenies to the Rockies. In ceramics White Hall stands in the first rank. Our sewer pipe works are the best equipped and the largest in the Mississippi valley."

"This industry ought to be developed along new lines. We have no terra cotta works. We have no factory producing queensware. The best of fire brick can be made of our clay. Building brick can and have been made here. Enameled brick could be made here. We have no factory for making sanitary supplies such as stools and bath tubs."

"We need a Chamber of Commerce to induce new industries to locate here on the available sites in the vicinity of the two great lines of railroad which afford superior shipping facilities. White Hall of the future is going to be what we make it. A large unearned increment has come down to us from the past. The future White Hall is going to be a better place in which to live and a better place in which to carry on business than ever before. Don't listen to the knockers; don't countenance the pessimist. Let's proceed with the first great needs, pavement and a filtering system."

LOUIS HOREN SELLS CLOTHING BUSINESS

Rockerman Interests of Peoria Purchase West Side Store—
Horen Expects to Return to St.
Louis to Engage in More Extensive Business.
The Rockerman interests, proprietors of the Hub clothing stores of Peoria and northern Illinois, have purchased the cloth-
Horen in this city, and are already on the ground to take immediate possession. The deal, which has been pending for some time, was practically completed yesterday. The new proprietors of the store are taking over the lease to the present location in the Knollenberg building on the west side of the square, and expect to continue the clothing business there.
Mr. Horen is quitting business life in Jacksonville, and within a week or ten days, will return to St. Louis, where he will care for business interests which have been taking his attention for some time. He is considering entrance into a more intensive and larger business.
Mr. Horen stated that he regrets very much to leave Jacksonville, where he has made many friends. He has been in business here about four years,

PASSION WEEK
AT BROOKLYN
A very creditable crowd came out Monday evening to see the pictures of "Holy Week" and participate in the Pre-Easter services. The congregational singing was fine, taken from the same book that was used in the union revival. The pictures are real works of art, being reproductions of the masters, such as Tissot, Dore, Rembrandt, Guido Reni, DeVinci and others. The subject tonight will be "Christ as a Revolutionist," or in conflict with religious customs.
Come and bring a silver offering.
Admission is free. Program begins promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

Now a QUICK Quaker Oats Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Women Wanted Quick cooking—here it is Countless women have asked for an oat dish that cooks quickly. Now our experts have perfected it.

Quick Quaker cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes. It is the quickest cooking oats in the world.
Now your grocer has Quick Quaker as well as the regular.

Just smaller, thinner flakes

No change whatever in quality or flavor.
But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

In both you get that matchless flavor which has won the world to Quaker.
Both are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats. We get only ten pounds of these premier flakes from a bushel.

But that is why Quaker Oats dominates. Millions of mothers, in every clime, send overseas to get it.

You want your children to love oats. It is their food of foods. Then always get this super-flavor.
Get Quaker—Quick or regular—the style that you prefer.

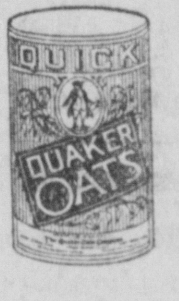

Regular Quaker Oats

Come in package at left—the style you have always known.

Quick Quaker Oats

Come in package at right, with the "Quick" label.

Your grocer has both. Be sure to get the style you want.

Packed in sealed round packages with removable covers

Time to Spray Lime and Sulphur

If you spray your trees right now while life in them is dormant, with you will have the largest yield of fruit you have ever known.
We have it in 1 pound, 5 pounds, 10 pounds, 25 pounds, 50 pounds and 100 pound cans. Get yours today.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Stock prices made a sharp recovery in today's market after a five day reactionary period. Further selling took place during the morning but this was easily absorbed and prices turned definitely upward in response to the appearance of fresh buying power in some of the recent speculative favorites, which in turn brought about extensive short covering, accelerating the rise.

Oil, steel and equipment shares took a prominent part in the gains.
Trading in railroad shares was relatively quiet and irregular.
Call money opened at 5 1/2 per cent and advanced to 6 in the last hour. The time money continued quiet with a limited number of loans for two and four months securities being made at 5 1/2 per cent.

The ruling rate for prime commercial papers continues at 5 per cent.

Establishment of new low records for the nearby virtually all of the liberty bonds was again
the feature of the day's trading, the net losses ranging from 2-32
to 1632 of a point.
